MATRIMONIAL ODE. TO MY WIFE ON HER WEDDING DAY. By Benedick Oldham, Esq.

Oh! darling object of my earliest sigh! Sweet wife!

First day-heam of my life ! The earliest, fairest star in all love's sky ! First spring-flower in the garden of my heart! How beautiful thou art! Brighter than meteor, or war's blazing rocket! Dearer, far dearer than the merry light Of beacon bright

To him who o'er the murky ocean roams. [Oh! here she comes -

Abusing all the maids like a pickpocket.] When first I saw thy face And pressed thy hand, I thought none in the land Possessed more grace. My passion knew no bounds.
[They said she'd have ten thousand pounds: But that was all a hum-She won't have half the sum.] My young heart yearn'd to call thee mine.

Waking and sleeping, Smiling and weeping, No thought had I but thee, my Caroline! Thro' good and ill, Thro' storm and calm, I lov'd thee yet. Thine was the altar my heart lov'd to bleed on: And still

My love has nought to feed on But-[Mutton and turnips! bah! you know, my dear, Mutton and turnips are what I detest:

They always make me ill.

But pray don't bother me about the dinner, get Whatever you like best.

And pray, love, don't ask me to get the wine!]
My love has nought to feed on but thy smiles. Those smiles so sweetly gilding my sad lot; Those tones, that make a palace of my cot; Those cares, that make a year but seem a day; Those tender pledges of the neptial vow That raise their little voices clear and fine; [Good heav'ns! pray take that squalling child away!

My dear, D've hear! Who do you think can write with such a row ?] Those thousand soft endeavments without name; [There now the nurse is bringing in The other twin!]
Oh! joys like these make life indeed a heav'n!

[There! now comes t'other nurse with t'other seven!] And leaves the humble bosom nought to sigh at. [Decimus, be quiet !] The sun that shone upon our wedding day,

In words of light Thus sweetly seemed to say: Life shall to you be as a summer's morn Golden and bright; And bland Contentment, like the gladd'ning dawn, Shall shed its blaze

O'er all your days. [Good heav'ns! your pa gazetted! zounds!
There goes my "haif ten thousand pounds!"]
Content, that with its magic wand,
Turneth sadness Into gladness;

Content, and health, and innocence, and mirth, And all those joys that make a heav'n of earth, Shall wait Upon your state.
[Your brother Abel gone off to New York!
Oh lawk! And I'm his bond !]

In some sweet woodland spot, Far from the world and all its care and strife, You too shall pass your life-A life of fairy-Wand'ring by shady grove and silent grot: Quiet, not dull: alone, not solitary.

[Your mother and seven sisters coming! why, my dear! You must be in your dotage! How could you ask 'em here ? I'm sure they never can get in the cottage.] Then oh! my Caroline! sweet solace of my days! Thy name shall ever be

To me A charm, a music, a most holy spell; All angry thoughts to quell.
[That whisker'd Irish cousin call'd again, my dear, I tell you once for all, I will-not-have-him-here.] Life's stay! sweet prop! [The empty fop!] My only love ! [They laugh, by Jove !] Fountain of bliss!

By heav'n, a kiss!
Was ever impudence like that false woman's! Hey, John! hollo! a cab-as quick, Sir, as you can-And tell the man To drive to Doctors' Commons.]

MATRIMONIAL ALLIANCE .- A Married Gentleman, of the highest respectability and connexions, has opened two Establishments at some distance from each other called the "MATRIMONIAL ALLIANCE" -one of which is conducted by himself, to give interviews to Gentlemen, and the other by his Wite, for the same purpose, exclusively to Ladies.

These establishments publish their monthly Portfolio on the first day of November next, for the inspection of Ladies, and which will contain copies of letters (without name or address) from gentlemen of rank and fortune, also gentle-men of private fortune, officers in the army and navy, and professional gentlemen of high respectability and fortune who are desirous of entering into the holy state of matri-

It is impossible to appreciate the utility of these Establishments, or the sound principles upon which they are conducted, except by such Ladies and Gentlemen who have purchased the RULES, which are so strictly drawn and so rigidly adhered to, as to render them unobjectionable.

The Rules and Portfolios may be purchased of the agent, J. Hayward, stationer, No. 13, Charles street, leading to the Soho Bazaar.

Country agents allowed a liberal per centage for selling the Rules and Portfolios. All letters must be post paid.

Mr Graham .- As we uncorked Dr Bartlett's vials upon Mr Graham, we feel bound in justice to publish the following portion of the latter gentleman's letter to the Bos-

"When I first gave a public course of my lectures on the science of buman life, in the city of Philadelphia, in the winter of 1830-1, it did not enter into my thoughts to continue to repeat those lecture in public. But the interest excited by one course, caused a demand for another, so that I was induced to repeat the course several times in that city. In the meantime, the fame of these lectures spread abroad, and pressing invitations came to me from numerous places, requestian me to come there and lecture. Several gentlemen from New York came to me in person, and orged the importance of my visiting their city and giving my lectures there. I accordingly visited New York, in June, 1831, and gave a short course of eleven lectures there, on eleven successive evenings. Nothing could well be more popular than these lectures were. The rich, and the fashionable, and the gay, as well as the grave, attended. Doctors of divinity, doctors of medicine, lawyers, judges, professors of colleges, &c., &c., were in the dense crowd; and some of them literally sitting at my feet, so that I scarcely had sufficient space to stand in and le ture. All professed to be delighted, and medical gentlemen joined with others in lauding me in the newspa-

Thus far in my public career, all things have gone very smoothly. The newspaper press, as a general fact, had every where commended my labors, and scarcely an illnatured or censorious expression had found its way into public print against me. In Philadelphia, and every other place where I had bectured, much interest was excited, and the subject became a general topic of conversation; and many foolish and ridiculous stories and misrepresentations were propagated by those who did not hear me, and especially by those whose interests were most likely to be unfavorably affected by my operations.

My lectures to mothers, in Philadelphia, which were attended, on one occasion, by no less than two thousand ladies, and the same lectures at Harrisburg and elsewhere, were made the occasion of considerable idle and silly re-mark; but nothing more. In no instance was there any manifestation of a disposition to interrupt or disturb these, or any of my other lectures. The physicians of Philadelphia, as might be expected from such a talented, learned, and highly honorable body of men as adorn the medical profession of that city, treated me and my labors with the utmost urbanity and generosity. Every one, with whom I had the pleasure to be acquainted, seemed glad of an opportunity to oblige me in any manner, and to afford me any facility. Several of themattended my lectures, and warmly commended them

Before I returned from New York to Philadelphia, I entered into an engagement with some of the leading mer-chants of the former city, to come back and spend the succeeding winter in lecturing there.

Accordingly, in November, 1831, I commenced my public labors in New York, and continued to deliver my lectures there till July, 1832. In November, 1832, I recommenced, and continued to lecture in that city till June, 1833,-making, in all, nearly sixteen months, in which I was continually engaged in lecturing in the city of New York. And, during this time, I give there my lectures to

In New York, as in Philadelphia and elsewhere, my lectures excited considerable interest, and were talked about by almost every body; and many of those who were engaged in selling atcoholic liquors, tobacco, and other intoxicating substances, quack medicines, drugs, bad bread, and various other pernicious articles used in society, were particularly zealous and industrious in their efforts to excite a general and powerful prejudice against me and my lectures. And, by the exaggerated misrepresentations and wicked falsehoods which they propagated and diligently circulated against me, they certainly succeeded in accomplishing their object to a very considerable extent. Yet, all the prejudice thus excited, expanded itself in idle talk, and, occasionally, an ill-natured newspaper squib. But on no occasion, to my knowledge, was there ever manifested the least disposition to interrupt or disturb my lectures. My lectures to mothers, in New York, were not, I believe, the subject of a single newspa-per remark, and were no more talked about in the city than my other lectures. On the other hand, the ladies, who attended them presented me a beautiful silver bowl, as a testimony of their estimation of the instruction which they had received from me. And in April, 1833, a committee of more than fifty gentlemen, among whom were some of the first merchants in the city, publicly called a meeting of "the friends of the diesetic system, taught by Mr Sylvester Graham, to adopt resolutions expressive of their regard for the principles taught by him in his lectures, and to afford him some testimonial of their high sense of his important labors." braham Bell, Esq. presided at this meeting; and the following resolutions, among others, were unanimously adopt-

"Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting, the subject embraced by Mr Graham's course of lectures, is one of great and general interest to the human race; and more especially to the inhabitants of populous cities, in which the prevalence of luxury, connected with the sedentary habits of most of the population, induces inevitable

"Resolved, That it is the decided opinion of this meet. ing, that the general doctrines and dietetic ru es of Mr Graham are not only c rrect, but exceeding'y unportant; and that actual experiments in this city, especially during the prevalence of epidemic disease, have fully demonstrated this truth, in triumphant ascendency over the representations that have been made to the contrary."

These resolutions being adopted, "Mr Graham, on invitation, then entered the hall, and was presented, by Mr E. Parmley, on behalf of the committee and the meeting, with an elegant silver vase, in token of their regard for his important services."-[Genius of Temperance.] I have now presented a brief history of my career as a lie lecturer, from my commencement, at the close of 18 0, to 1833, and shown that, thus far, no mob nor any collection of the sovereign people ever attempted to disturb my lectures, nor to molest me in any manner whatever.

What I have further to state shall be given soon S. GRAHAM." Boston, March 14, 1837.

Mr Greene-Your correspondent P. in a late Post, urges against increasing the number of small Banks, first, that the expenses of doing the business are increased; and second, that the public are not so safe-and these, so far

As to the first, will P. be good enough to point out the particulars in which this objection applies to Banks, and not to individuals. Is it not a fact that a "clerk," and "desks" and "counters," and a multitude of fixtures are necessary for every place of business, that aspires to the denomination of a shop; and is it not just as true that "all this extra expense com's upon the community" in one case as in the other—for it can be demonstrated, that at least half the counters, and desks, and sales, and probably cierks could be dispensed with it individuals would only club together, and do all the business of the city in large establishments, instead of filling the streets with individual concerns. But as the public are unquestionably benefitted by these individual establishments, would it not be worth while to try the experiment of suffering small Banks to try their hand

As to the second objection, will P. point out wherein a small Bank is less secure than a large one, supposing both are conducted on correct principles? supposing the issues of both not to exceed a fixed ratio to the capital? To be sure, P, says, that in case there were many Banks "the borowers in each Bank would be less in number, and the loans would be larger to each individual, in proportion to the capital"-but where is the proof? or whence is the tendency? Is it not a fact that as a general rule, small dealers do not allow to their delaters to contract at to a ruinous extent? Then why should small Banks? Appeal to ficts - is it not much more a custom now with small Backs to limit amount of individual loans to 10 or even 5 per cent, of the capital, than it is with large ones? I reply believe this to be the case; and if an examination were made, I believe it would be found so.

But in deciding upon dangers, we naturally recur to ex-Does experience point out any danger from small Banks? There has been no Bank failure in Massachusetts for twenty years, large or small, till the Nahant Bank's opped; and that appears to have been managed in such a manner, that, with the same management, a large one would inevitably have failed. This stoppage was not owing to the amount of the capital; and the public may bless their stars that it was no larger. Still, bad as this is, the Public (as distinguished from the stockholders) will probably be no losers or but trifling ones.

It is true that several small banks have so conducted as to Legislature." forfeit their charters; but it is difficult to see why this should be charged upon the whole class, while the largest in the State is under the same condemnation, and several other of the mammoths escaped without the public sceing why.

In conclusion, I beg to recommend to public notice the chapters on the subject of Exchange Banking, in Presi dent Wayland's book, just published, on Political Economy. They are exceedingly luminous, and I believe, in the main, are irrefutable. Few, conversant with his productions, will question the respectability of his authority-and he throws the whole weight of it against monopoly in

To the Editor the of Buston Morning Post .- Sir: --I have just seen in your paper or this morning, the communication of Dr Bartlett, in relation to my lecture to Young Men, and my lectures to Mothers. In reply to his remarks, I will only say, that my lectures to Young Men is now in print, and I am very willing that every individual in society should read and judge of it for himself; and my lectures to mothers shall be in print as soon as I am able to get them there. In the meantime, however, out of respect for the candid and virtuous portion of the community, who may be laboring under wrong impressions, I solemnly declare that neither in Boston, nor any where else, did I ever, in any of my lectures to Mothers, or lectures to females exclusively, describe, speak of, or even a lude to, sexual intercourse-and all statements contrary to this declaration, are wholly destitute of truth.

Yours, with respect, S. GRAHAM.

mh-13 8sp OLIVER DICKSON.

To the Hon, the Justices of the Court of Common Pleas, begun and holden at Boston, within and for the county of Suffork, on the first Tue-day of January, A. D. 1337:

Taule petition of Martin W. Tewksbury, Saml. Tewksbury, and Joseph Burrill, inhabitants and residents in the town of Chelsea, in said county, in behalf of Phemselves and other inhabitants and residents of that part of said Chelsea called Pulling Point and Point Shirley, humbly shews that the Hon, the Legi-lature of said Commonwealth have by charge authorized a bridge to be erected and built across Bass or thorized a bidge to be erected and built across Bass high bank creek, so called, to hell Island, so called, in sa city of Boston, thereby connecting said Pulling Point with said city of Boston. And your petitioners further represent that the public necessity and convenience require that a public highway or road should be laid out, located and established, beginning at or near "Bill Tewksbury's gate," so called, ed, beginning at or hear on the rewsburys gate, so called, on said Pulling Point, and from thence running its about northwesterly direction, across lands of said Bill Tewksbury, bavid Floyd and Philip Tewksbury, across Bass creek, or high bank creek aforesaid, at the place where the said bridge is authorized to be built, as aloresaid, to Bell Island, in said city of Bosten, the whole distance lying within the said town of Chelsea, being about --- rods more or less.

Your petitioners further represent that the road now travelled is very circuitous, and across a long beach exposed and subject to encroachments from the sea, which renders it at times utterly impassable, and that the travelling distance when it is passable to the city of Beaton by this route, is ten miles, whereas by the route petitioned for, the distance from Pulling Point to said Boston is only five miles.

And your petitioners further represent, that the number of inhabitants and residents on said Point Shirley and Pulling Point is very considerable, to wit, between two and three hundred who cultivate very valuable farms there, and come to B ston to find a market for their produce, and who, as well as the public, are suffering constant inconvenience for the want of a free, direct and easy communication with the said city of Boston.

Wherefore, for the reasons aforesaid, the said Martin W. Tewksbury, Samuel Tewksbury and Joseph Burrill, in behalf of themselves and other inhabitants of said town of Chelses, resident at said Pulling Point and Point Shirley pray this Hon. Court that a new road or highway may be fuld out, located and established, from said Polling Point, in said Chelsea, across Bass Creek, as aforesaid, to Bell Island, otherwise called Hog Island, in said city of Boston, and that such further measures may be had and taken by this Hon. Court, not only having 12 men sick of the scurvy; 15th inst. sch Horse, hence that said road or highway shall be established as aforesaid for Gonaives.

according to law, and as in duty bound will ever pray.

MARTIN W. TEWKSBURY,

SAMUEL TEWKSBURY, JOSEHH BURRILL.

Suffolk, ss. At a Court of Common Pleas begun and holden at Boston, on the first Tuesday of January, A. D. 1837 Upon the petition of Martin W. Tewksbury, and others, aforesaid, ordered, that the said Martin W. DHELPS'S ARCANUM.—For the cure of the worst diseases of the skin, ulcerous sores, scrofula or king's evil, syphilitic and mercurial diseases, rheumatism, white evil, syphilitic and mercurial diseases, rheumatism, white swellings, liver affections, costiveness of the bowels, general debility &c. And such diseases as are caused by an impure or bad condition of the blood. It is likewise particularly recommended to those whose constitutions are broken by habits of luxury and intemperance, the injudicious use of quintue and mercury, and hadly cured diseases, by unskillul or neglected medical treatment, and all those whose lungs and chest are diseased by remote causes in the system.

The Arcanum has proved itself by years of experience far any rior in its effects to the Panacea, of Swaim, Catholicon of

Potter, or the French Robs. In testimony of the above statement, we refer to the opinion of Dr Sam'i L. Mitchell, of New York, Dr Jones of Baton Rouge, Dr Archer of Virginia, Dr er's and Barber's Godman of Philade phia, who have investigated the proper-ties and efficacy of the article, and affirmed it as being supe-rier to all medicines in their knowledge, for the removal of the diseases above named. Price $2 per bottle, Boylston, Mass. Aug. 1st, 1835.

In the year 1830 I requested Dr Phelps to visit a daughter of mine, aged about 15 years, having a distortion of the spine or back bone, and whose general health had always been fee-

The curvature of the spine, at that time, had acquired a hopeless and singularly disfigured appearance, and the Sternum or breast hone corresponded with the distortron, pre-enting to the beholder a deformity calculated to excite the deepest sympathy. From the first appearance of this disease, I had solicited the most skilful of the profession, whose attend auce, various prescriptions and remedies were unattended with success or benefit—in a word, the progressive march of march of Iron Compasses the disease bid defiance to the ingenuity of skill, and the power of medicine.

It was under these circumstances that we commenced the use of the Arcanum, which was pers-veringly administered for several months. Her general health soon began to improve, and the progress of the disease was gradually arrested, by this medicine only, and the use of the salt water bath.

From this period, her strength and energies of mind and body were evidently improving, and the deformity has subsided with the growth of years. At this time, which is more than five years since, we adopted the treatment of Dr Phelps, my daughter is in the enjoyment of good health, to our assonishment and admiration. She has been a teacher or instructress for two years past.

DR. HUNTER'S PILLS AND INJECTION POWDERS,

Continue to stand unrivalled. Witness the following cases of cures:

To A Gentleman in Thomaston, was many years afflicted (thought incurable) with ulcers in his throat, pain in his limbs loss of appetite, universal debility, and otherwise discused; his life dispaired of, was restored to perfect health and spirits by a few boxes of these Pills.

A Seafaring man, suffered so severely from this complain for two years, as to be often deprived of his rest, had pains in his limbs, sore throat, headache, enlargement of the glands of the neck, scull bone affected, a bad cough, no appetite, entirely debilitated, and considered as past relief, having tried other medicines in vain, was cured, and restored to perfect health, by a few boxes of these Pills!

STA young man, was recently entirely cured from a bad stage of the complaint, by using the above medicine (to less than $3 value,) after receiving the advice of several physiciaus, and using various celebrated medicines.

An invaluable property! "I feel myself (writes a per

The uniform success which has attended the use of it where it has been extensively used, in Boston and various other parts of the United States, and in the West Indies, attested by disin? terested and highly respectable persons, affords, next to a trial of the medicine itself, the best commentary upon its virtues, this time, I suffered very much from mental depression, considered sustant pain in the head and breast, and side, sharp shooting painever almost the whole system—the food that I ate seemed to pass into my longs and there remain, giving me great pain as tended with a strong degree of heat. At times, I suffered so much from the pain of indigestion as to be confined to the bed for two or three days. During one of these most severe attacks I was induced by the advice of a friend to try your Vegetable Medicine. In the course of a few weeks I found myself much better, and by the time I had taken two bottles, considered the follows. They are manufactured in the best manner, by experienced workmen, and warranted. Purchasers will have the privilege of returning them after giving them a fair trial, i not satisfied with them. N account of that most excellent Medicine prepared at Dr Loveman's Gilead House. Price 50 cents per bottle, Sold by appointment in Boston, at D. S. ROWLAND'S, 188 Washington street, Bos on. To administer to a mind diseased, pluck from the Memory arooted Sorrow, Raze out the written troubles of the Brain, and with some sweet oblivious Antidote, Cleanse the foul Bosom of that perilous stuff which weighs upon the Heart."

Dr. LOVEMAN'S Balm of Gilead is universally acknowledged to be peculiarly efficacious in all inward wastings, loss of appetite, indigestion, depression of spirits, trembling or shaking of the hands or limbs, shortness of breath, and con-sumptive habits. It thins the blood, eases the most violent pain in the head and stomach, and promotes gentle perspira-tion. By the Medical Faculty this medicine is much admired being pleasant to the taste and smell, gently astringing the fi bres of the stomach, and giving that proper tensity which a Canton Silk in cases (other silks in proporgood digestion requires.

Dr Loveman's Baim of Gilead is recommended to the weak, the relaxed, and debilitated, as an agreeable and speedy restothe relaxed, and debilitated, as an agreeable and speedy restorative; and considered as a cordial, is essential to the comfort of ladies of fashion, being a preventive against cold, when taken before going out to partie, balls, roots or the play It will enliven the spirits and invigorate the mind and body, and if taken after fatigue, it will with a few hours sleep, take away all larguor consequent on broken rest, and give relief from every unpleasant sensation.

It is a most valuable remedy for such diseases as are attended with the following symptoms, namely—a great stratuses of the breast, with difficulty of breathing—violent palpitations of the heart, sudden flasces of heat in various parts of the body—at other times a sense of cold, as if water was the body—at other times a sense of cold, as if water was poured on them—flying pains in the arms and limbs, back and belly, resembling those occasioned by the gravel—the pulse very variable, sometimes uncommonly slow, at other times very quick-vawning, the hiccough, frequent sighing, and a sense of suffication, as from a ball or lump in the throat-alternate fits of crying and convulsive laughing-the sleep unsound, and seldom refreshing, and the patient often troubled with horrid dreams. Much has been said by interested individuals against Medicines that are advertised, but there is a very important observation to be made respecting Dr Loveman's balm of Gilead, that unless its operation was gentle's afe and efficacious, it could not have obtained the unexampled demand it has acquired.

NERVOUS DEBILITY "Without Health we can enjoy no Fortune; Honors, Riches, and all other advontages are useless."

This Cordial has been uncommonly successful with young people who have the appearance and air of old age, who are pale, effeminate, benumbed, stupid, and even imbecile; whose bodies are become bent, whose legs are no longer able to carry them, who have an utter distaste for every thing, and are totally incapacitated. Where the stomach is frequently disordered, the body is weakened; paleness, bodily decay and emaciation succeed, and the eyes sink into the head. The virtues of Dr Loveman's Balm of Gileadure demonstrated, in oradicating the worst and most dangerous symptoms of nerous debility, and nothing has tended so much to establish the ame of this medicine, as its certain success in those complaints which strike their roots so deep in the constitution, and are so fatal to the happiness of mankind. Dr Loveman's Balm of Gilead has risen in repute with eve-by Loveman's Balm of Gliead has risen in repute with every triat of its efficacy. Some, perhaps, unacquainted with its virtues, not having perused the Guide to Heslth, may be induced to ask what is the Balm of Gliead good for? What complaint doth it cure?—To answer this it will be necessary to

"Hold the Mirror up to Nature."

Let those who are afflicted in the following manner reflect on the cause that produced such havoc upon the "wholesome appetites and powers of life:"—disordered stomach, dry cough, weakness in the voice hoarseness, shortness of breath upon the least exercise, and relaxation of the whole system. Those afflicted with paleness, languor of the eyes, weakness of sight or memory, should take time to consider Linneus's advice, that "youth is the important period for forming a robust constitution," and that "nothing is to be dreaded so much as premature excess." The foundation of a happy old age is a agood constitution in youth; temperance and moderatio... at that age are passports to happy grey hairs.

For such as have violated these precepts, then, this healing balm is suitable—complaints included in the vague appellation of Nervous and Consumptive, are those for which it is peculiarly adapted.

In offering this medicine to the public, I can say with confidence that they will find great benefit by using it in all diseases recommend d, as I om fully acquainted with the medical qualities, as they have been discovered by myself, and are extracted from vegetables, and I can truly say, there is no earthly danger in using the medicine by any person, no matter how they may be afflicted. This medicine has been used by a large number of persons, and have been cured of diseases of a long standing, when all other medicines have failed. long standing, when all other medicines have failed.

THE TRUTH WILL PREVAIL.

Dr. Goodwill's Gonorrhaa and Gleet Detergent. FEMIE only infallible remedy ever discovered for Gonorrho and Gleets is now become too well known and established, in all parts of the Union, to require comment. Its universal success, which in no instance has ever failed, has warranted it to cure in forty-eight hours the most desperate and inflammatory cases of Gonorihoa, Gleets, and whites in all their stages, strictures, Seminal Weaknesses, pains in the loins, irritation of the Uretura from Gravel, as well as chronic floating to the Uretura from Gravel, as well as chronic affections of the urinary bladder and kidneys, if ever so vio-lent or of long standing. This safe and only infallible remedy is an agreeable liquid, and its effects long on the constitution, (being composed of Sarsaparilla and the choicest of prepara tions) that while it restores the system, its superiority over every other kind of medicine only requires a limited trial to know its efficacy. Every person that has made use of this A. M. and Providence at 7 A. M. medicine has been his own physician, and secrecy has been secured—having proved effectual in almost two thousand cases, and never to our knowledge failed in any instance. The vast and increasing sale from the recommendations of the highest medical characters, as well as those who have experienced its salubrious and beneficial offects, prove its great success and entire superiority over every other medicine, in being the most effectual remedy ever discovered for the cure of the above diseases, giving—muscular strength, energy and vigorous health to the whole frame. The most delicate females may take it with perfect safety. Dr Goodwill's Determine males may take it with perfect safety. Dr Goodwill's Detergent is a safe, certain and speedy cure for the above diseases, from the most recent to the most protracted cases. It is ta-ken without any risk, inconvenience, or suspension from business. See that your case is eradicated, not patched up by quack doctors or quack medicines. Those who make use of one single bottle may be convinced of the easy method of being cared. The "motto" of this medicine, "let every person be their own physician with secrecy." It will prevent the occurrence of the disease in persons, male or female, of the most fastidious delicacy, and is a real blessing to human kind. It ought always to be on hand.

N. B. A word to the wise.—Take no medicine but the above, and keep away from the quack Doctors, whose names appear in every public print, and then you take no mercury and save four constitution.

"We have much pleasure in bearing testimony to this safe and efficacious Medicine: we do this on grounds of strict impartiality, knowing several friends who have been cured by it.
